

The sink stripe: every query attends to the first image token — absent in baseline, total in textinit, and already present at init (inherited)

